

What Do We Mean By Success Anyway?

The key points from the discussion "How do we measure success?"
Focussed on Quantitative vs Qualitative data.

The discussion noted the requirements for many programs to have a benchmark enrolment figure to attain and continue funding. This led to discussion around program delivery and the challenge of retention and engagement.

What was interesting was the real challenge of providing Program Transition Exit structures. As the need increases for programs to report on Student outcomes the pressure increases on staff to report on Where students exit to. Discussion here was around how Resource Intense student requirements are in programs catering for students in Alternative programs.
